MUST RUN "THROUGH" CARS. WARRANT FOR CAPT. BREWER. SAFE FROM WHITE CAPS NOW.

Corporation Counsel Clark Raps He Is Charged with Disposing of Louis Spyerer, of Corona Effigy the Eighth Avenue Road.

Aldermen Can Abolish the Filthy Champion Pigeon Shot Leaves Arrested in Brooklyn on Suspicion Reisy Station.

ion. Mr. Clark looked up the charter of the Company and the result of his investigation is told above.

He advises the Mayor that the remedy is with the Aldermen, who can enforce the charter provisions. Acting-Mayor McCiellan will bring the matter before the Board at its next meeting. The transfer car will have to go.

Only every second or third car which statis from the depot at Fiftieth street is a through car, so that a passenger whose destination is above Fifty-ninth street, if he happens to strike a "short tripper," must get out at Fifty-rinth street and wait from two to twenty minutes, according to the time of day or night, either on the street in all kinds of weather or in the nasty transfer car.

Frambach Accuses Him of Getting $500 by Fraud.

Borrowed the Money on Representations of Having Stock Security.

Adam Frick, an attorney in this city, has been lodged in Ludlow Street Jail in defualt of $500 ball, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

The warrant was issued by Judge
Pryor, of the Court of Common Pleas.

The plaintiff, Louis Frambach, alleges that on May 15, 1893, Finck came to him and said a man by the name of Henry S. Jones wished to borrow $1,000. for which he would give as security some Eric Railroad bonds worth $2,000. Se needed $600 to make up the amount

In June, Frambach alleges, he gave Finck the $500, for which he received a receipt to the effect that Jones had deposited the stock with the lawyer.

Frambach has made demand for the money repeatedly, but can get no satisfaction.

He alleges that there is the alleges that there is the same of the satisfaction. He alleges that there is no such man as Henry I. Jones, and the scheme was simply a swindle.

Island town of Corona as the "German Corporal." He arrived there from Germany about six months ago and went to live with his uncle. Henry Spyerer, who had a young and pretty wife.

Louis speedily won the regard of the towns-people by his stories of life in the German army. He explained that he had left hastily because of a duel in which he had killed his captain.

Mirs. Spyerer, like Desdemons, was won by these tales of war. She soon conceived a violent affection for her nephew and when her husband objected, according to his story, she drove him out of the house.

The neighbors did not approve of this conduct, and one evening hanged Louis and his aunt in effigy from two tall telegraph poles on the village street. They also requested the couple to leave town at once.

When Spyerer was arrested yesterday he gave a fictitious address, but afterwards admitted that he had come from Corons. Policeman Bruns went down there yesterday and learned all of the young man's history from various people, all of whom said he would be tarred and feathered if he ever showed himself in the town again.

Mr. Burgen said he was looking for his cousin, August Burgen, of 168 Pfit street, who had left his home Feb. 27 last, and has not been seen since.

"My cousin," continued Mr. Burger, "was thirty-five years old and unmarried. He worked as a Jeweller in Tiffany's factory.

"He had been expecting some money from his father who lives in Alsace, and because it did not arrive he was feeling despondent.

"It may be, however, that he got the money on the day when he was last seen by me, and has met with foul play."

The police had not been notified of Burger's disappearance, because his cousin believed until to-day that he would turn up all right.
